QUARRIER OF THE MONTH

The faculty has selected Greg Schwebach as the Dell Rapids High School Quarrier of the Month for December.

Schwebach has excelled in numerous sports and activities throughout his four years in high school. He is a member of the Study Buddy program, has been on the honor roll all four years of high school, and is a member of the Quiz Bowl team. He was inducted into the National Honor Society, as well as becoming a Boy's State participant during his junior year, and is currently the Student Body President.

Along with academics, Schwebach also excelled in athletics. He participated in basketball his freshman year, where he was nominated "C" team MVP; wrestled his junior year where he received the fastest pin (14 seconds); lettered in football for four years and track for three. Schwebach has received numerous awards because of his hard work and dedication.

During his freshman year of football, he was nominated

Rookie of the Year; his sophomore year, Schwebach was named Most Valuable JV player in football, as well as receiving the Coaches Award in track. He was a participant in the shot-put on the DRHS 2009 State Champion track team and received fourth place in the 2010 track season at state.

In his senior year, Schwebach was a member of the 2010 State Football Championship team, receiving the Coaches Award at the end of the season. He was selected to be a part of the All-Conference and All-State teams, and was given the Ron Berg Memorial this past football season.

"I am honored to be selected by the DRHS staff for the December Quarrier of the Month Award," said Schwebach.

His future plans include attending a four year college and majoring in either business or education.

He is the son of Tim and Pam Schwebach.

KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION EXTENDED UNTIL FEB-11

Parents MUST REGISTER their kindergarteners for next school year by February 11. In December there were 15 registrations and now there are 54. We usually expect about 60 to 70 students in kindergarten. Please encourage your neighbors to register. By extending the deadline, we expect to get every potential kindergartener registered. It is important to register even if you may not send your child. The school district parent-teacher task force is considering all day every day programming and may even consider a kindergarten readiness program for less mature kindergarten age students. However, we need to know enrollment numbers before final recommendations are made. Those still not registered can either call the elementary school at 428-3192 or send an email to Heidi.Adams@k12.sd.us so your child can be scheduled for kindergarten screening. You may also register online by clicking the top banner on the district web page (www.dr-k12.org)

If your child will be five on or before September 1, 2011, you should contact the school. Kindergarten registration is designed to assist parents who are unsure of whether their child should enter kindergarten even though they are of age as well as for parents sending their child to kindergarten. It is very important to participate in this registration to insure there are proper student/teacher ratios and enough materials for your child. Parents will be contacted by letter as to the time for their child's screening. If your child will be of kindergarten age, or you know of children who are, please help the school extend this list.

MEETINGS

The Board of Education meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month from September through June and the second Monday of the month in July, August, and December. BOE meetings begin at 7 p.m. and are held in the Distance Learning Room at the High School. Agendas can be obtained from the Superintendent's office on the Friday before any meeting. The Dell Rapids Tribune publishes the minutes of each regular and special meeting. Agendas and minutes are also posted on the school website.

ONE ACT PLAY

Every year at Dell Rapids High School the drama director directs two plays. Earlier this year high school and middle school students acted out a hilarious musical titled, "Honk!". Now that fall has come and gone and spring is on it's way, it is time for the annual One Act Play tryouts and practices.

In previous years, drama director Sharon Mitchell has chosen different genres of one act plays, but this year she has chosen a comedy. The play is called "Speed Date" written by Janet Allard, and it is exactly what the title implies. The setting takes place in a community center on Valentine's Day and the theme revolves around characters looking for their long lost love. Characters range from a business woman obsessively wrapped up in her work, a cat-obsessed widow, and, of course, the hopeless people pleaser. All characters seem to have similar traits that explain why they are speed dating...they are desperate, needy, talkative, and strange. With all the chaos and emotions floating through the air the characters manage to make it through with success; even with those few odd daters trying to make their move.

"Speed Date" is a hilarious one act that won't let you down and you won't want to miss. The cast members are all very excited to perform their parts and are hoping to get more than a few laughs from the audience.

There are many familiar faces taking the stage, but there are also quite a few new faces stepping out from behind the curtain. This year there are 21 students participating in the play and three crew members making sure everything is being run smoothly throughout the production.

"It is fantastic to see so many students involved in this play! There are plenty of new faces taking charge and I am very excited to see how it all pans out. It will be fun," Mitchell said.

On Jan. 27, 2011, the one act play actors and actresses will be traveling the distance to Brandon High School in Brandon, S.D., for the regional One Act Play Contest. If the judges like what they see and give them high enough rankings, the crew will have another week of practice and compete at the State Competition on Feb. 3-5, 2011, again at Brandon High School.

Good Luck to all the cast and crew members as they act their way to the top!

FEBRUARY FUN FRUIT FEATURE TANGELO

The Tangelo is a hybrid cross between a tangerine/mandarine orange and a grapefruit or Pummelo. This fruit has an interesting bell shape and is a great snack any time of the day.

Tangelos only have approximately 47 calories each and are loaded with Vitamin C. Avoid picking one with dull colors or overly bumpy skin. The skin should be bright and vibrant, almost a reddish hue. A ripe tangelo should be heavy for size, soft and have smooth skin. Most tangelos come from Florida and have a growing season from November through February.

Go to your local grocery, pick up some tangelos and enjoy a delicious, healthy snack.

DRMS PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPT.

DRMS Physical Education Department has implemented a DRQ Animal Fitness Challenge that started on January 10 and will go through April 29. We are challenging staff, students and their families to document the recommended daily exercise of 60 minutes. There are 8 clubs that students will advance through reaching the goal of the Quarrier Club. Rewards will be given for accomplishing certain clubs throughout this event. DRMS students received the information in their PE class. This program will encourage students to feel better, get in shape and have more energy. Being physically active is a great habit to start as soon as possible. Join your children in this fun challenge. If you have any questions or concerns please email Julie.barber@k12.sd.us.

SCHOOL BUS

GRADUATING SENIORS

At Dell Rapids High School, with the help of block scheduling, seniors are given the option of graduating early if all of the necessary requirements are met. This year, six seniors chose this option and are now moving on with their post-high school plans.

In order to graduate early, students had to turn in a request to the administration and make sure their schedules were arranged in a way that would include all of the graduation requirements; meaning at times, their schedules are pretty heavy. By choosing to graduate early, these students will miss out on high school events occurring during the second semester including prom and winter activities; however, these six former students thought through the options and decided that graduating early was their best choice.

Brittni Steineke, one of the graduates, said, "I decided to graduate early because I felt I was ready for a new challenge, and ready to make the next step in my life." She took a fuller schedule in high school to achieve the 24 credits needed to graduate, and was definitely pleased with her decision. Graduating early has given her the opportunity to begin college in advance, and she has already started taking classes at the University of South Dakota (USD), and plans on majoring in sociology and nursing. Steineke, along with a few other early graduates, has chosen to walk with their class at the May graduation ceremony.

Two others, Kassandra Steineke and Whitney Rowe, also began college starting spring semester. Rowe is attending nursing classes through USD and is hoping to be done by 2014.

Two graduates, James Fisher and Tyler Nelson, however, chose to graduate for a different reason, and went straight into the work force. Fisher said, "I graduated early so I could go to work and save up for a car and college. My plan is to become an electrician." On the other hand, Taran Xavier is going into the military and had to graduate early in order to carry out obligations for his deployment papers.

In the end, the choice to graduate early depends on the individual students' desire for their life, and if they are ready to take on the new challenges that await them. For some students, graduating early seems to provide the freedom to move forward with the future plans, yet for others, staying in high school is a good way to have more time to prepare for the future. Good luck to all the graduates of DRHS as you continue on with your post-high school plans.

SAMANTHA MATHIS' FEATURED JOURNALIST ARTICLE

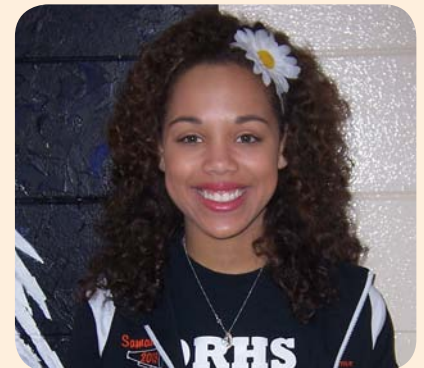

When tragedy strikes we always point fingers, but are you pointing them in the right direction? Media is often put to blame but when it comes to a situation such as the Tuscon, A.Z., shooting; can you blame the media? Yes, there was a person pulling the trigger but was he in the right mindset when he saw the crosshairs as targets?

Journalists today often hide behind the First Amendment which prohibits the making of any law respecting an establishment of infringing on freedom of speech, freedom of press, and interfering with the right to peaceably assemble or prohibit petitioning for a government redress of grievances. I know journalists do have the right to say whatever they would like, but isn't it hard to know what is printed may be partially responsible if something happened to the subject within the printed material.

I do think it's okay to say what you believe and feel is right, but there are boundary lines that also should be observed. For instance, Jared Lee Loughner, the Tuscon gunman, is now getting so much media attention for the crime he committed.

Others see this as an opportunity for attention and they could just as likely do the same thing. Of course, it is hard to avoid such media for it was a violent act and very much newsworthy at the time.

Sometimes the media only seems to show the violent things that happen, but what about the good in society? Always showing violence teaches us that it is an everyday occurrence and perhaps it is okay to commit these crimes. Always stating your opinion or showing violent images or things may help you feel better but it may cause someone else some suffering. We can't avoid the violence that occurs throughout our world but the media could certainly do our part in helping it stop.

AG IN ACTION

On January 20th, twenty-three agriculture students attended the Student Career Day during the Ag Expo 2011. These individuals had the opportunity to view exhibits and equipment relating to agronomy and listen to Walter Bond, a former NBA athlete, presentation on personal accountability "No One Can Stop You BUT You!" The students then attended a luncheon with information presented by the luncheon sponsors. A tour of Raven Industry located downtown Sioux Falls concluded the events of the day.

The Wildlife and Fisheries class has finished up the introduction to wildlife, habitat, hunting and management. Andy Gabbert, a Habitat Biologist for South Dakota Game, Fish and Parks was a guest presenter on January 27. He discussed what he does as a habitat biologist and also exposed the students to the various careers in the wildlife field and what education is required to hold those positions. The students are now working on wildlife identification. They will be working on large mammals, small mammals, non-indigenous species, upland game birds, duck, geese, swans and cranes. They will investigate the general description, the habitat, feeding habits and life cycle of the various species.

Various shop projects occupy the class period for the Advanced Ag Mechanics students. Snow blower repair was a high demand area for the students. They are now working on repairing a horse trailer and building a snowmobile stand.

The Fundamental Animal Science students are just finishing up a unit on livestock selection. The students have gained knowledge about what to look for when selecting an animal, the various body parts that are indicators of a quality animal and other factors taken into consideration when selecting an animal. The next unit on genetics will expose the students to traits that are passed from the parent to the offspring and using a Punnett Square to help predict the gene combinations. On January 19th, Dr. Seth Severtson came into the class and presented information on horse hoof care and demonstrated how to properly trim and shoe a horse.

The FFA chapter will sponsor a 3-point shot event on February 12th to help raise funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Cystic Fibrosis is a genetic lung disease that causes the body to produce abnormally thick, sticky mucus, which clogs the lungs, leading to infections, and also obstructs the pancreas, inhibiting proper digestion of food. Progress in Cystic Fibrosis research has accelerated over the past few years and with the help of events like the 3-point shot contest, we can keep the Foundation on the forefront of medical science helping the 30,000 children and young adults who face cystic fibrosis every day. The FFA chapter will match the amount brought in on February 12th. The Corduroy Classic is scheduled to be held Saturday, Feb. 12. This event includes a pre-game reception for FFA members and half-time festivities. It will be a night of great basketball and an opportunity to celebrate the special connection SDSU shares with the FFA. The SDSU women's and men's basketball teams take on Western Illinois at Frost Arena in Brookings. The FFA members are starting to prepare for the spring career development events. Those events areas include: Ag Business Management, Ag Mechanics, Ag Sales, Agronomy, Dairy Cattle Evaluation, Dairy Foods, Floriculture, Food Science, Horse Evaluation, Livestock Evaluation, Meats Evaluation, Natural Resources, Nursery/Landscape and Range Plant Identification. The first event will be on March 2 at Howard. Members are also busy planning and preparing activities for the National FFA Week February 19 – 26.

PAY IT FORWARD

In November and December, Mr. Solberg and Mr. Hegge's 8th grade Advisor-Advisee Class watched the movie Pay It Forward during their Character Education Class. Its plot consisted of a concept of passing on good deeds to others. Instead of paying it back when people received a good deed, they 'pay it forward'. The class decided to continue with that idea throughout Dell Rapids as a part of their home room community service project.

Using the 'Pay It Forward' concept, non-perishable goods were collected from the community and taken to the Dell Rapids Food Pantry. County Fair graciously donated the collection bags.

Households that received the bag were asked to pass it on to a friend or neighbor. Over 40 bags were placed throughout the community. 25 bags were returned heaping with non-perishable items. Mr. Solberg, Mr. Hegge and their 8th grade home room students would like to thank all those who participated in the food drive.

Thank you for your generosity and participation in our community-wide project.

FCCLA NEWS

The FCCLA members have been busy with different activities. We held a family night on November 29. The members and their families came for a potluck supper, played board games, and played Safety Jeopardy under the direction of April Erdman, a member of the SD FCCLA Community Peer Education team. One of the activities we did in December was wrapping gifts for the Children's Inn at the Sioux Falls Empire Mall. We went to Orchard Hills Assisted Living and Terrace Manor and made Christmas crafts with the residents. We are also working with the residents and doing a craft with them during the month of January. We also had a chapter Christmas party at the end of December. We are now preparing STAR events for district meeting which will be held February 2 at the Reformed Church in Dell Rapids. Plans are also underway for FCCLA Week which is in February. If you are looking for a gift idea, chapter members are selling couponconnex cards for a fundraiser. Contact any member or their advisor for more information.
