Attention: Administrative Audiences-

A monthly report from the DRPSD Administrative offices on school district happenings, updates, and changes.

The day before Thanksgiving vacation was quite a bit different from the normal day at DRHS... students participated in a Student Health Awareness Day. This day was created in order to educate our students on the importance of establishing a healthy lifestyle and making good choices. Students started their day listening to Mrs. South Dakota International and Miss Teen South Dakota International. These ladies work to raise awareness for and decrease the stigma of mental health issues in children and teens.

Following the morning keynote, students participated in a variety of breakout sessions. During some of these sessions, students learned stress management techniques, discovered strategies for healthy relationships, and practiced self-defense tactics and basic training drills. In all, students benefited from twelve different guest speakers on a variety of physical and emotional health topics.

At the end of the day, students again came together as a student body to hear from Chris Olson, who became a quadriplegic in 2001 as a result of a drunk-driving accident. Chris' message is to look at a common student motto "YOLO - you only live once" in a different way. He encourages students to live each day to the fullest by making wise decisions and making a difference in the lives of others.

Another event which is extremely important to the students at DRHS is the Annual Tour of Homes. This event is the yearly fundraiser for the Junior Class. Each member of the class is asked to sell five tickets and the proceeds from the ticket sales fund the Spring Prom. This year, there are five beautiful homes available for you to tour. More information about the Tour of Homes is contained in the Wise Owl and flyers are displayed in local businesses. If you have yet to purchase a ticket, please call the high school. We appreciate your support and are confident you will have a wonderful time!

Even though we do have exciting events such as those I've described above, this winter season can be a time when students may become a bit lethargic and unfocused. Here are just a couple tips for helping your child keep his/her attention focused and energy high... Encourage your child to set weekly goals. Whether it be to score an A on a science test or turn in every English assignment on time, students benefit from setting goals. Working toward specific goals helps them stay focused. Talk with your child about what their goals could be; help them to make their goals specific. It isn't enough to say, "Do well in math class" - making a specific goal ("score at least a 90% on Friday's math test") will help him/her to know the goal has been accomplished and be able to celebrate a job well done. Write the goals down and check them off when they have been achieved. Revisit them during the week and check progress. What is your child doing each day to take manageable steps toward success? You may even want to model this goal setting for your child... what goals would you benefit from accomplishing at work or at home? The sense of accomplishment will be just as great for you as it will be for your child.

Help your child to stay active and engaged. We saw hundreds of fans, young and old, turn out for the fall events: football games, volleyball games, cross country meets, golf meets, cheer competitions, oral interp events, Quiz Bowl competitions, and the fall play! There are just as many activities during the winter season! It is important for students and adults alike to enjoy these recreational activities as a respite from the daily grind. If your child is already actively participating in a winter activity - great! If not, there are countless activities to attend... from basketball games and wrestling matches to holiday musical events and even the Tour of Homes. There is even powerlifting and archery! Joining in with others to enjoy recreational activities gives all of us a sense of belonging and something to look forward to beyond the day-to-day routine.

Thanksgiving is past and Christmas is right around the corner. Students at DRSD are having a great year, and we are confident the days that lie before us will bring more opportunities for learning and growing together. Please call the school if you have any questions about our activities! We hope to see you in attendance!

Dell Rapids School District

Winter is right around the corner. This seems like a good time to create a plan for school-aged children in the event of weather closings or cancellations. Dell Rapids Public Schools understands that our decision to open or close schools has a large effect on our families; however our top priority is the safety of our students. The following information can be used to assist you in preparing your winter weather plan with your children.

How do we make our decision?

School closings are based on careful analysis of many factors including:

- Information on road conditions from transportation staff and local authorities.
- Even if your road looks clear, travel somewhere else in the district may be dangerous.
- We always consider that many of our high school students drive themselves to school.
- The amount of snow, fog, and ice accumulated by the storm and also the forecast for the remainder of the day.
- Building conditions such as whether we have proper electricity, heat, and utilities.
- Facility conditions including lots and sidewalks.
- Temperature and wind chill. We look seriously at closure when the actual temperatures are in the -25 to -30 range.
- What decisions other school districts are making plays a part. Please remember that each district is unique in the types of land and terrain that they consider into their decisions. No two districts are exactly alike.

How is the public notified?

DRPS will continue using the School Reach notification system. All registered parents will be notified of changes by email and phone calls. In addition, we will continue to place alerts on local radio and television stations. Please do not call the school district telephones unless it is an emergency. If you need to update your contact information, please contact the Middle School Office at 428-5473 ext.2.

When is the decision made?

Our goal is to have the decision made and on the air by 6 a.m. or earlier. In the event that a cancellation takes place during school hours, we will always try and give a one hour notice to parents before we excuse for the day. Please remember that Haven will be open for two hours after the stated dismissal time.

Although my staff and I do our absolute best with this bad weather process, we know that often no perfect decision exists. If you as a parent feel as it is not safe for your child to attend school, please keep your student(s) home. Contact the school prior to school starting and our building Principals will count your child as excused by parent. You as parents make the final decision on the safety of your child.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding this process.

Ag in Action

The five students taking Advanced Ag Mechanics have been working on a variety of projects both for the school as well as personal projects. They removed tack strips from the old elementary to install in the high school in various locations to allow the posting of various information for students to be visible and in a common location without taping it to the walls. This class will end at the conclusion of the first semester.

The Introduction to Agriculture, Food and Natural Resource students have finished the forestry, fish and wildlife unit and will finish out the semester with units on crops and horticulture unit and a short unit on international agriculture and agriculture careers will round out the semester.

The Fundamental Ag Mechanics class has finished up a unit on plumbing. The students will now go over electronics in agriculture and have an opportunity to go into the shop and look at the various parts of electric motors and go over how to reverse the direction of the motors. The students will finish out the semester going over agriculture buildings which consists of the different types of structures, materials used and environmental concerns.

Courtney Wolles, Karisa Nells, Austin Machmiller and Paige Burggraff demonstrated their leadership skills by competing against over 130 FFA members from 20 different chapters in the Jackrabbit Invitational Leadership event in Brookings on Nov 8. All four members participated in the ag broadcasting and journalism event. The district leadership career development events were held at Hartford on Nov. 13 with Courtney and Karisa competing in the ag broadcasting and journalism event and Austin Machmiller interviewed for one of the seven district officer positions. Karisa placed 3rd in the district and will be competing at the state event on December 2nd & 3rd in Pierre.

The FFA fruit sale concluded on Nov. 19 with 50 individuals selling items totaling $20,730. That total is an all-time high and the money raised will fund all of the FFA activities throughout the year. Ashley Welbig was the top selling individual selling $2,425. The products will be in on Wednesday, Dec. 5, 2012, with the members sorting through the boxes to ensure a quality product before delivering the items they sold starting on Thursday, Dec. 6.

The senior members can apply for their State FFA Degree, with the applications being reviewed on Jan. 30 and they can also apply for FFA scholarships through the State and National FFA, with the application due Feb. 15.

The Sioux Empire Winter Show, Jan. 22- 26, will also have various events available for members to participate in.

Seniors job shadow future careers

As the second quarter progresses and graduation nears, the seniors at Dell Rapids High School are beginning to make the big decisions that come with graduating high school. The major focus is career choice. With so many possibilities, it can be tough to determine what job is right for you. With the help of high school counselor Jennifer Ruesink, the seniors got the opportunity to shadow a professional in the career field they were interested in.

Job shadowing is a great learning experience that allows students to become familiar with that profession and all that it entails. Whether it confirms a career path or changes a student's opinion, this experience helps students in the decision-making process. To prepare for the event, seniors were shown how to create a professional looking resume and cover letter which were then mailed out to their shadowing experience prior to the event. Colin LeBrun said, "Job shadowing was very helpful. It gave me an inside look on what my future would look like if I chose to pursue that particular occupation."

Some of the areas of interest this year included a pilot, nursing areas, physical therapy, photography, education fields, optometry and agriculture just to name a few.

FCCLA Cluster Meeting

On Thursday evening, Nov. 15, South Dakota FCCLA members left for Oklahoma City to attend the FCCLA (Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America) Cluster Meeting. While there they were able to attend workshops on topics related to the national projects, texting and driving, leadership skills, STAR Events, healthy lifestyles, etc. The national officers presented information around the theme for the meeting, "Make Your Mark." The opening session featured the speaker named Harriet Turk whose address was centered around the title "Peacemakers in a Violent World." Middle School students provide "Holiday Cheer" for others

The Dell Rapids Middle School hosted a food drive for the local Dell Rapids Food Pantry during the week of November 12-16, 2012.

Middle School Student Council members sponsored this food drive to help provide items for the Thanksgiving holiday and to replenish items that are needed most by the pantry. DRMS Student Council asked for Student, Staff, Parent, and Community Members help in gathering the following donations for each day: *Mashed Potato Monday: Mashed Potatoes, Dressing, and Packets of Gravy; *Turkey Tuesday: Gift cards and monetary donations to go towards purchasing Turkey's and Ham's; *Whatever Wednesday: Bring any item you would like to donate; *That's a Veggie Thursday: Canned Vegetables; and, *Fruity Friday: Cranberries and other canned items of fruit.

Although the above items were requested, all gift cards and donations were welcomed and very much appreciated. Gift cards and monetary donations will be used by the Food Pantry to purchase perishable items. Everyone was able to participate by bringing items to donate to his or her homeroom collection box. The Thanksgiving items which were collected were taken to the Food Pantry by DRMS Student Council members and DRMS Student Body members. Items donated will be made into baskets for families and community members throughout the Dell Rapids area. The baskets were delivered by the Dell Rapids Storehouse Organization before the holiday season.

In total, DRMS was able to collect over 25 boxes of items to donate, nearly $200.00 in cash and approximately $190.00 in gift cards. We would like to thank everyone who participated in any way for all of their support and help in making this collection such a huge success!

If you or someone you know is in need of food or other personal items please contact the community food pantry or your school counselor. Thank you again for your support to this worthwhile cause. Merry Christmas!

Middle School representatives pose next to the boxes of packed food collected and ready to go to the area food pantry. This was a great opportunity to get involved in the community.

Packing boxes (left to right) were: Peyton Kistler, Kade Gruis, Carter Wynja, Will Dearduff, Brandon Geraets, Karsen Welbig and Regan Stone. Thanks to everyone for the fine job in helping out.

Fall Play-Within-A-Play- a crowd pleaser!

On Nov. 12-13, 2012, the Dell Rapids High School Drama Department presented their annual 3-Act Play titled Noises Off. The cast was directed by Mrs. Sharon Mitchell.

The cast for the play included Dotty Otley (Jade Schull), Lloyd Dallas (Michael Mitchell), Garry Lejeune (Tad Lacey), Brooke Ashton (Darrian Grassi), Poppy Norton-Taylor (Taiven Logan), Frederick Fellowes (Luke Snoozy), Belinda Blair (Jessica Tisher), Tim Allgood (Jill Nelson), and Selsdon Mowbray (Jacob Ritter).

This year's 3-Act play took on an interesting twist. It portrayed a play within a play where audience members witnessed characters rehearsing, dressing and performing their play Nothing On. In watching this play, senior Mackenzie Schildhaur said, "It was a great and fun play to watch! The comedy throughout made it all the more entertaining."

The audience's attention was held as the direction of the "play" (Michael Mitchell) ran his characters through the last rehearsal before the performance. The first act was full of misplaced props, dropped lines, and wardrobe malfunctions - to say the least. The scene had the characters moving in and out of doors which set up the second act of all the back stage happenings and the dysfunctional actions of the cast in a more humorous outing of events. The final scene showed the play again, only with a tired cast, broken props and a stage hand who wanted to have his 15 minutes of fame. Through it all, the cast and crew kept the audience in stitches guessing the final outcome of the "play" they were putting on.

For the performances to run smoothly and effectively, several other behind-the-scenes helpers were needed to execute the lighting, sound and the rearranging of the props throughout the play. These assistants included Stage Manager Cassidy Wright; Stage design and construction crew Spencer Tisher, Gus Kruger, Russ Nelsen, and Michelle Nelsen; Costumes and Props, Bryana Schull; Sound, Paige Lampe; Lights Nic Holmes and Zac Peters; and Stage hands Hannah Fiedler, Deni Ahlers and Demi Erickson.

Through its bouts of comedy and frustration from the characters, this play turned out to be a great portrayal and reenactment of a play from the DRHS Drama Department.

"I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to be a part of this year's 3-Act play. As the Stage Manager I was able to witness the play from a different perspective, which made it even more fun to watch. I can't wait for the one-act plays to begin," said Wright.

Thank you once again for a great performance, and with One Acts just around the corner it will be fun to see what is next!

Jade Schull never breaks the beat of the play as the play handyman (Jill Nelson) takes on a part that belongs to another actor.

Student Awareness Day Successful

On Wednesday, Nov. 21, 2012, inventions when it comes to the mental health of children and teens. Shan-students had an educated day non has worked with many children called "Student Awareness" Day. who have mental illnesses or disorders.

"Student Awareness" Day was created to educate students on the importance of establishing a healthy lifestyle and making good choices," said DRHS counselor Jennifer Ruesink. "I learned that it's okay to make mistakes and be different. It's okay to have problems because even though you may not realize it, there are many others going through the same problems as you," said

Making choices is not only important to your physical health, but also your mental health. On "Student Awareness" Day, students listened to a variety of speakers presenting throughout the day to engage and inform on the importance of lifestyle choices and their impact on themselves as well as others around them. The two main speakers were Mrs. South Dakota international 2013 Shannon Rook and Chris Olson. senior Jese Nelson of Rook's speech. Chris Olson, a professor in the College of Business and Information Systems at Dakota State University, came to DRHS to explain how one choice can change your life. Olson experienced an obstacle that was life threatening on April 13, 2001, as he was involved in a drunk driving crash and was thrown from a vehicle; was later resuscitated and airlifted to Sioux Falls where he remained for six weeks. His fiancée, Tana Thompson, died at the scene. Other than the two keynote speakers, all students were divided into different groups and attended four different break-out presentations. With a total of 12 different presentations that all involved students leaning about many ways to have a healthy lifestyle with hands-on activities, powerpoints or small group activities to help them understand the themes.

Many of the speakers who came were through the Carroll Institute and spoke to the students from the heart and personal experiences.

"I thought the day was very inspirational and learned a lot from the speakers," said senior Aleza Kirschenmann.

Professor Chris Olson ended the day in telling Dell Rapids students what one choice can do to change the direction your life can take. He shared his life story and answered many questions about the day.

Quartets perform at All-State Event

Each year, students from Dell Rapids High School have the opportunity to audition for a spot on one of the two quartets that perform for All-State Chorus. This year's concert was held in Rapid City on Sat., Oct. 27, 2012. Auditions were held on Friday, Aug. 31, and students auditioned using a part of one of the songs that was performed at the 2012 All-State event.

Under the direction of Chorus Instructor Ginny Ziebarth, this year's quartets consisted of Nicole Rice, Jordan Stone, Ben Hinricher and Jackson Gleason in quartet one; Dylan Damm, Chelsey Huffman, Darrian Grassi, and Austen Hof in quartet two. Senior Austen Hof really enjoyed his second year as an All-State attendee, "It was an amazing experience, I wish I could do it again."

Before their big debut, both quartets contributed to hours of practice weeks before they left in order to prepare themselves for the occasion. The songs were all required to be memorized they included, "America the Beautiful", "Kyrie from Memorial", "Festival Sanctus", "The Last Words of David", "Davids Lamentation", "If Music be the Food of Love", and "The Awakening".

"The selections chosen this year were beautiful. The conductor, Dr. Anna Hamre was amazing," said Ziebarth.

Students left in the early morning on Oct. 26 for their journey West to Rapid City. Once there, they went to the Rushmore Plaza Civic Center to begin practicing for the next evening event.

Their hours and hours of practice definitely paid off when the two quartets performed their memorized songs amongst hundreds of other South Dakota students in front of a massive audience. Senior and newcomer to All-State Chelsey Huffman was grateful for the experience, "It was very unique to be apart of. I was glad for the opportunity." Great Job All-Staters!

In the stream of things and in an old cliché, “All good things must come to an end,”; however, this year will live on in memories made for all to look back on and smile.

This year all of the teams for the fall seasons trained and worked hard to make every minute on the floor, court, field, and course count. For some it was the beginning of their future to come and for others it was the end of an era as they handed down the reins to others.

The football team made a class run through the season losing only one game in the regular season but when the hitting was the hardest they came out on top make it a three time return to the Dome and a three time return home with the gold. This team deserves a standing ovation for all that they have done and will continue to do in the future.

The Competitive Cheer team spend a lot of hours in the gym and on the mats to make their trip to State a memorable one as well. Moving into a bigger class only added to the challenges but with their hard work and dedication they came out at the Second best team in the state overall; and placing just a few points behind their rival Sioux Valley. Great job ladies in all that you did this year.

The Golf team also made a repeat trip to state and with many of the same members from the previous year they made the competition as tough as they could and came out with a Fourth Place finish overall; and two members on the All-State team.

In the end, all of the sports came out as winners no matter how the seasons ended. It just goes to show what a lot of hard work and dedication can do for a team and the bond that comes from being a member of a top notch organization.

Thanks to all of the seniors and best of luck to you all, and to all of the underclassmen - keep up the good work!

Congratulations on a great season!!
